Scripps addresses potential impact if deal is consummated between Comcast, TWC

For immediate release

(NYSE: SSP)

February 13, 2014

CINCINNATI – The E.W. Scripps Company today addressed the potential impact on its retransmission revenue if a merger of cable providers Comcast Corp. and Time Warner Cable were to be consummated.

“A Comcast-Time Warner deal would have no impact on our retransmission revenue over the next two years,” said Rich Boehne, Scripps chairman, president and CEO. “We’ll have to assess the longer-term impact when the details are more clear, including the impact of the final geographic footprint after any divestitures Comcast may make.”

The proposed merger would not affect retransmission revenues for Scripps in 2014 and 2015. Scripps is projecting 2014 retransmission revenue of more than $50 million and nearly double that amount for 2015.

About a third of the 14 million Scripps cable households are customers of either Comcast or Time Warner Cable. The Scripps-Time Warner retransmission agreement, covering 2 million customers, is set to renew at the end of 2015. The Scripps-Comcast agreement, covering 2.6 million customers, is set to renew at the end of 2019. In addition, Time Warner negotiates on behalf of cable provider Bright House for about 900,000 customers in Scripps markets. Prior to those renewals, both agreements result in retransmission revenues for Scripps that are well below prevailing rates.

Until the details of a completed merger are known, it is unclear how a merger of Comcast and Time Warner could impact Scripps retransmission revenues between 2016 and 2020. Cable systems acquired by Comcast fall under the terms of the Scripps-Comcast agreement.

Scripps on Monday announced the acquisition of two television stations from Granite Broadcasting Corp. - WMYD in Detroit, a MyNetworkTV affiliate, and ABC affiliate WKBW in Buffalo, where Time Warner has 300,000 customers. If a Comcast-Time Warner deal were to be completed, the 2015-16 Scripps multiple after synergies would move to 8.0x, still delivering an attractive return to shareholders.
